

Arlington Anglers

Psychology for Successful Fishing

Bob Diebold
Arlington Anglers Fishing Club

To be a successful fisherman and enjoy yourself in the process, it takes more than using the latest fourteen ball bearing reel, reading In-Fisherman, and casting a $35 Japanese lure. At the September Arlington Anglers meeting, Outdoors Writer, Steve Sarley shared these bits of advice to improve your fishing experience:

- Fish with guys that are better fisherman than you. They make you better.
- Have a positive attitude. You will fish with more concentration and do better.
- Come prepared. Don't forget the camera, net and equipment.
- Don't be afraid to try new techniques. Don't get stuck in the old ruts.
- Fish with guys you like. Otherwise you will not be happy and fish your best. Stay away from the guy that only fishes a few hours and calls it quits

Steve Sarley is an outdoors columnist for The Northwest Herald, and the Illinois Outdoor News Magazine. He can also be heard on The Outdoors Experience radio show that airs live on Sunday morning on WIND AM-560.
